Junior High Orchestra

The Junior High Orchestra, under the direction of L. H. Perry, gave a number of programs throughout the year. The members of this organization will become the musicians of the senior organization and should be commended for their achievements.

The outstanding program was for the Ninth Grade Commencement.

Junior High Band

The Junior High Band, also under the direction of L. H. Perry, had a membership of seventy members.

Programs included those presented at convocation, at P. T. A., and at the College Chapel. These young players have proved to us that Hastings High can count on them for a fine Senior Band in the future.

Senior High Orchestra

The Senior High Orchestra under the direction of M. H. Shoemaker has completed another very successful year. It has given programs throughout the year and has been considered one of the finest musical organizations in the school. It has had a membership of seventy members.

Various programs in which the orchestra took part were the concert for Teachers' Convention, Kosmet Klub plays, Junior High Operetta, Senior Class play, Senior Baccalaureate, and a mid-year concert given at the city auditorium in February. The concert-mistress for the orchestra was Phyllis Weyer.

The string quartette, composed of Phyllis Weyer, Edwin Krug, Helen Koelling, and David Rosenberg, won recognition throughout Hastings.

The orchestra, as well as the band, and glee clubs, was represented at the Fourth Annual Clinic at Beatrice in December. It also participated in the District IV music contest at North Platte this spring.

Senior High Band

The Senior High Band, under the direction of M. H. Shoemaker, had a membership of ninety members, proud of their highly entertaining and commendable performances. A pleasing addition to the band this year was five drum majorettes: Madelyn Brittell, Bernadine Hofferber, Jean Hultquist, Virginia Walters, and Phyllis Weyer. Drum Major Ray Scholtz proved a competent leader.

The organization was divided, as in former years, into the orange and the black pep bands who played alternately for basketball games.

Concerts and performances included various stunts at football and basketball games, an outdoor concert in the fall at Prospect Park, music for the Teacher's Convention, and a mid-year concert at the city auditorium. Small groups were featured at P. T. A. programs and at convocation. One of the outstanding small groups, a trumpet trio, had as its members, Bob Kline, Roger Yarnall, and Bob Moreland. As soloist Bill Nelson showed his ability on both the trombone and the baritone horn. Student conductors were Bob Kline, Bill Nelson, and Ray Scholtz.

High School Glee Clubs

The Glee Clubs, under the direction of Mary Frances Collier, have made a fine reputation for themselves this year.

Programs have been given during the year at P. T. A. meetings and at the city auditorium. The highlight of these programs was the Christmas pageant presented at convocation in December when the tableaux were accompanied by carols sung by the glee clubs.

Members of the glee clubs participated in the Fourth Annual Clinic at Beatrice, and also in the district IV contest at North Platte.

Tiger Cub

The Tiger Cub, bi-weekly school paper, was published by the Journalism class. The positions on the staff were appointed by Francis M. Hawk, journalism instructor, who changed the positions as he saw fit.

The class was divided into two staffs, which alternated in putting out the paper. Competition and rivalry between the two groups tended to make a better paper, as each group tried to excel the other.

This year's staff claimed the honor of publishing the largest Tiger Cub since 1923, an eight page paper, put out during Teachers' Convention.

Kosmet Club

Since the membership of this organization was limited to approximately fifty, members were selected by tryouts, held semi-annually. A committee judged and selected each entry on acting ability.

The purpose of Kosmet Klub is to study the art of dramatics, by the acting in and the directing of plays. Since a number of one-act plays could be given at one meeting, each member had opportunities to participate in various productions during the year.

The outstanding event of the year for Kosmet Klub was the "Night of One Acts." Three plays: "No, Not the Russians," a farce; "A Moment of Darkness," a tragedy; and "Sparkin'," a comedy, were presented.

The club meetings were held the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Student Council

The purpose of Student Council is: to arouse a spirit of loyalty toward the school, to sponsor school activities, to create and extend a spirit of good fellowship throughout the student body, and to foster a spirit of cooperation between the students and faculty.

Student Council is an organization composed of students selected by each home room to represent that group. An important duty of the club was to provide convocation programs. Each student council representative was responsible for business carried on in home rooms and for library overdue slips.

This year the Student Council completed the Handbook, and helped with the Teachers' Convention by counting ballots, acting as guides, and assisting at the registration desk.

Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves is open to all high school girls. The members of the organization strive "to face life squarely and to find and give the best."

Since there was a great number of girls desirous of joining, the club was divided into three divisions: sophomore, junior and senior. An Inter-Club Council, consisting of two representatives from each group, discussed projects, parties, and problems common to all clubs. Rogene Mohnike was Inter-Club Council president.

In the fall an all-day district conference was held here. The day was spent in discussions of problems concerning Girl Reserves and their social life. Each club had its own social events and money making projects. An inter-club date party was held in the spring.

Hi-Y

Hi-Y is an organization open to all high school boys who will attempt to live up to the club's purpose: "to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Supper meetings were held twice a month. For each meeting an interesting program was planned, usually including a guest speaker. Some of the speakers of this year were Miss Roberts, whose topic was "Etiquette"; Paul Iverson, "New York City"; and Mr. Swartzwelder, "The Conflict of Ideals." At a joint meeting with Science Club Mr. C. W. Stein, head of the F. B. I. of the state, told of the work throughout the country. Two meetings were held at the Y. M. C. A. in a combination "Swim and Pie Feed" which proved very popular. The club had two date dinners. The so-called "Corny Six", a school swing band, was the entertainment for the first, and two moving pictures were shown at the last. The final meetings of the year were the Mother-and-Son Banquet and the picnic open to all those interested in Hi-Y work.

A state "Older Boys' Conference" was held at Lincoln where six of the Hastings "Hi-Y'ers" were in attendance.

Bill Nelson has been the Hi-Y congressman for this district which includes the southern part of Nebraska.

Library Club

The Library Club is a volunteer organization of selected students interested in library work. In order to become a member of the group the applicant must be rated favorably by three teachers on accuracy, scholarship, resourcefulness, dependability, and personality, and must also comply with the rules and regulations of Miss Glen H. James, school librarian.

The aim of the club is to assist the librarian in performing the functions of the library, and to give those interested a practical opportunity to become acquainted with library methods.

The group met every two weeks during the lunch hour. Matters pertaining to the functioning, the arrangement, and the use of books and libraries were discussed by the forty-five members.

Debate and Declamatory

In 114 completed decision debates Mr. Sickman's debate class won eighty-five. Three or more of these contests were entered by twenty-four of the twenty-six class members.

The invitation tournament record includes first at Kearney, second at Peru, and third at Hastings College and at Doane. At Midland the Hastings squad was one of the seven who survived the elimination contests. The district tournament at Kearney saw Hastings win second place and the right to enter the state meet at Lincoln.

Contestants in declamation, under the direction of Mr. Hawk, climaxed a successful season by sending five representatives to the district contest held at Gothenburg. Entrants were: interpretative oratory, Robert Morrow who rated "very good;" original oratory, Marko Haggard, second; extemporaneous, Dorothy Dunn, third place; dramatic reading, Elaine Berger, third; and humorous reading, Dorothy McDermott who won superior.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is based upon scholarship, character, leadership, and service. It is the ambition of every student to belong to this organization, which aims toward the making of an all-round student. Only students from the upper third of the senior class are chosen.

In recognition of their membership, they are given a pin. As the society is honorary, it holds no regular meetings, but officers are chosen to represent the group. The organization is under the supervision of Miss Brower.

German Club

German Club was renewed this year by the vote of the German class. The meetings were held the last Friday of each month during the regular class period. Only members of the second year German class were eligible.

The purpose of the club was to better acquaint the students with Germany, its people, language and customs.

A program committee, appointed by the president for each meeting, arranged the programs. Some of the programs were presented by: Mrs. Robbins, German teacher at Hastings College, who came from Germany; Lily Belle Anderson, who told about her tour of Germany; and Miss Altman, who talked about her trip to Germany.

Kearney Contestants

Among those receiving first and second honors this year were: Delmar Friend, Bob Hitch, Dorothy Dunn, Patricia Webster, Jeanne Galley, Beverly Jean Bierman, Donald Vant, and Herman Schriener.

Cub Club

Cub Club has ended a very eventful year under the leadership of Miss Lotta Jo Oliver. Bob Fuller, Dick Hunter, Marilyn Peck, and Bonnie Jean Nelson were the cheerleaders, all of whom were new this year but developed skill in handling the pep rallies and game cheering.

Twenty-seven new girls were admitted into the club this year. Their qualifications include spirit, enthusiasm, co-operation, initiative, scholarship, originality, marching ability, and appearance.

Clad in orange wool sweaters and black skirts, these girls attended games in a body, promoted pep meetings, sold season tickets for football and basketball games, and gave a stunt for the York football game and for the Lincoln basketball game. Two new songs were introduced by the organization. Some members represented Hastings at the out-of-town games. Before the Grand Island football game the group marched behind the band through the business section of Hastings and helped create enthusiasm for the game.

Miss Lotta Jo Oliver stressed the objectives of the club which are to promote school spirit, to become a nucleus for organized cheering, and to act as an advertisement for the Hastings High School in the annual football and basketball ticket sales.

Football Regulars

Last fall the prospects for the football team were very dull with only four lettermen returning to form the nucleus of this year's squad. However the outlook was brighter when over 130 candidates reported to Coach Eldon Miller for suits, the largest turnout in the school's football history. Looking back over a spotted season, we find the up-and-down Tigers playing some of the stiffest competition in the state. The Tigers, opening with Jackson, played stellar ball, but were whipped in the last half. The following week they came back to trounce Fairbury and then copped a thrilling victory from Grand Island. The Tigers bogged down at Crete but came back to defeat Norfolk and Kearney in that order. York, however, was too much for the Tigers and so, too, was Beatrice, although Coach Shirey's Orangemen were outplayed. In the season's finale the Tigers blasted the touted McCook eleven from the stronghold of state recognition. This made a total of five games won and four lost.

Vernon Stiner and Jerry Durham were chosen on Gregg McBride's third and eighth teams respectively, with Durham consistently rating McBride's weekly honor role. Wallace Hopp received honorable mention.

Senior lettermen were Durham, Webb, Sypherd, Snyder, Witt, Munroe, Nelson, and Clinkinbeard. All lettered for their first time with the exception of Durham who received his second year award.

Junior lettermen included Miller, Stransky, Peters, Komarek, Stiner, Taylor, Wisner, Whelan, Norris, Hopp, Smith, and Dier. Second year lettermen were Miller, Stiner, and Norris.

Hastings was first in the non-conference list with four wins and no losses and finished in fifth place in the Mid-East Conference, by winning one, and losing four conference games.

Football Reserves

Coach Roy Bassett again was forced to start from scratch in selecting his reserve team. However with the help of his assistants, Coaches Dixon and Fink, a well balanced cub team was rounded out. The Tiger Kittens lost to Kearney and won from Harvard and Nelson.

Kearney was the first foe the locals met and the Bearcats scored a touchdown in the opening minutes of play for the only score of the game. After this counter, however, the reserves were on the offensive the remainder of the game, but lacked the needed scoring punch to push into play territory.

At Harvard it was a different story with every player breaking into the line-up. Dick Boudreau, diminutive signal caller, was the star, scoring three of his mates' touchdowns. Bob Smith, Ralph Johnson, and Jim Semotan each pushed over a touchdown also. The extra points for each touchdown were kicked by Bill Harse.

Tiger Cub gridders climaxed their season with a smashing victory over the Nelson seconds. Boudreau again was the star, scoring three of the touchdowns, and Rudy Goldenstein scored the other. In this game the play of the two tackles, McCune and Stratton, was noteworthy.

Basketball Regulars

Coaches Eldon Miller and Roy Bassett combined their efforts to turn out a team worthy of all praise given them.

Of the thirteen games played during the regular playing season, three were lost. Losses by one point to York, and by two points to Grand Island proved thrilling contests. The Tigers were known for their slim victories over their opponents. Lincoln High, with Fuller, is Hartman feared, was outlasted one point.

With Fuller, Hartman, Van Wie, and Miller as a foundation for this year's somewhat erratic squad, Coach Miller built a team that held its own throughout the season. The Tigers sailed through the opening rounds of the District Tournament with decisive victories over Sutton and Central City and then downed York, a team that had beaten them in season play. However, the Third City Islanders, bumping the Tigers in the finals, won the tourney.

It was at the state tournament that the team met their stiffest competition. For the sixth time in history the Tigers met Creighton Prep in the first round and emerged on the short end of the score. Creighton then went on to win the state championship with ease.

Due to lack of height, the Tigers again had to make up the difference in superb thinking and handling of the ball.

Tigers who lettered this year are: Fuller, Hartman, Van Wie, Miller, Webb, Durham, Ruby, Whelan, Hopp, Stransky, and Crabtree. Those who will return next year for continued service are: Hopp, Miller, Stransky, Whelan, Van Wie, and Crabtree.

G.A.A.

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to promote the physical well-being of the members; to create a feeling of good sportsmanship; to develop good character; and to give the high school girl a better opportunity to develop her athletic abilities.

Two local and two state letters were awarded to those girls who had acquired the necessary points in unorganized and organized sports. Aspirants also had to conform to health rules and pass a physical examination. Organized activities included basketball, hockey, and baseball. Unorganized sports participated in were ice skating, bowling, roller skating, hiking, swimming, badminton, tennis, and ping-pong.

The girls sold candy at the football games to purchase an electric phonograph which was used in folk dancing.

G. A. A. girls gave two performances, badminton and tumbling acts, at half-time during the York and Kearney basketball games respectively. Three girls represented Hastings High girls' athletics at the Kearney Contest.

The three important events of the year were the initiation, the spring picnic, and the Hastings College play day.

The Class of 1942

Two hundred and forty-two students received their ninth grade diplomas at the end of a successful school year in 1939 . . . An outstanding event in that year was the production of the operetta "An Old Spanish Custom" . . . Principal characters were Dorothy McDermott, Marian Schwein, John Korslund, Gertrude Klein, Margaret Pauley, Don Brandt, Russell McIntire, Alfred Garratt, Bob Stratton, and Bob Easter . . . Nine pupils, Don Cottingham, Lois Schneller, Mary Ann Swanson and Mavis Brittell, Harriet Pratt, Roger Kime, Joan Peterson, Fofi Cosmos, represented the Freshman class at the scholastic contest in Kearney in 1939. All made a record of which the class was justly proud.

TO THE SOPHOMORES

We old hombres, the seniors, want to wish you little buckaroos, the sophomores, two more successful years in our good old ranch house, Hastings High School.

Before you start to think about roaming the range and distant prairies, roundup a book or two and learn how to ride 'em, cowboys!

THE COWHANDS OF 1940

This year the same class still consisted of two hundred and forty-two students . . . Their class officers were Bob Smith, Faith Morrison and Harriet Pratt . . . Nine who tried out for declamatory work were Virginia Moore, Faith Morrison, Charlene Wicker, Virginia Lou Honaker, Lucille Lawrence, Mary Alber, Marian Schwein, Dorothy McDermott and Harriet Pratt . . . Mavis Brittell, Alfred Garratt, Walter Koenig, Bob Smith and Mary Ann Swanson were chosen to attend the Kearney contest this year . . . Jo Ann Kramer, Harriet Pratt and Margaret Pauley had leading roles in the "Night of One Act Plays," presented by Kosmet Klub in February.

"JOHN-SON, you mustn't TERRY any MOORE," my mother KAULEd, "because I want you to do your DAILEY errands. Be faster than a SCHNELL-ER I'll show you an ARM-STRONG enough to make a NEU-MAN out of you, she warned. "Here's some COYNE, and while you're in the BURROUGH(s), go to the CLARKE and have the BARBER cut your WOOLSEY. LOCK the GARRATT before you go and don't leave in a HOFF," she added.

"WRIGHT," I answered as I took my WICKER basket and set out.

The grass was GREENE and a small BROWN BIRD tweeted ambitiously as I passed H.H.S. I remembered I was supposed to give a report on the battle of BUNKER HILL, SUNDAY. If it were only EASTER vacation, when the COSMOS appear in the WOODS, but why dream?

"Hi, SAMUEL-SON," I greeted my HANSEN friend who came STRATTON around the corner. "WIER you going?"

"WAT-SON?" my friend asked.

"Lay down your package and let's B-RAMBLE," I suggested.

"My package is LIGHTNER you think," he said. "It's a box of candy, and I BURNS every-time I think of it!"

"Why?" I questioned.

"To think I had FAITH in her! She went out with a POWER-(s)ful senior last night! I won't give this candy to her now and I CANT-WELL take it back," my friend finished dolefully.

"You aren't LYON," I agreed, "Oh, well, now you're a FREE-MAN and out of that RUTT. You may want to KEELER now but why not give that candy to a BRANDT new girl?"

"That's a DILL of an idea. A really GOOD-WIN," said my friend and left happily.

ABBOTT 11:30 I finished my last errand at the MILLER'S and TRIPPed over to the BIER-HAUS to hear the latest prittle-PRATTLE and KAMMER-LOHR. But it was as quiet as a HURST in there.

"Why are there no RANTS and raving?" I asked.

"The STARK truth is that the VOLK have gone to lunch," I was told and being reminded of that GALER occasion, I hurried home.

That HAYESy afternoon my friends came over and we GAYly played cards until my ISAACed. They wanted to continue the game that night but I KIRTLEY replied, "NIX-ON that idea, I'm going to see our basketball QUINN play."

My mother settled the question. At first I thought I wasn't HEER-EN right, so I asked her, "KENT I go out tonight?"

Her answer left me one alternative—to go to bed and BREWER my troubles.

The Class of 1941

Outstanding event in the freshman year was the presentation of the operetta, "Magazine Princess"

. . . Principal characters were Gloria Knowlton, Bob Fuller, Dick Finnerty, Jack Norris, Bill Garratt, Elaine Berger, Betty Nispel, and Darleen Tower.

Last year Gus Douvas was chosen president of the class; Bob Newman, vice president; Dick Hunter, secretary; and Ray Scholtz, treasurer . . . five were active debaters . . . eight participated in the Kearney scholastic contest and brought home admirable records . . . Kosmet Klub initiated seven in 1939 . . . Two Library Club officers were sophomores . . . They were Sylva Little, vice president, and LaVon Kehoe, secretary.

Once upon a time there was a little boy called "Junior"—of course that wasn't his real name, it was Junior Class of 1940, but you can see why he was called Junior. Junior had a friend, "Soph," short for Sophomore. Third member of the trio was "Senior" who took delight in harassing poor little Junior. Junior was chased from one class to the other all day long. Even at night he had no peace. One day he took refuge in the Study Hall. As Study Hall was anything but gay, Junior soon fell asleep. He dreamed of all the fun he had at basketball games—leading the cheers with three of his classmates, Bonnie Nelson, Dick Hunter, and Bud Fuller, aided and assisted by the only senior on the job, Tootie Peck. It was a good season in which the team came through with 10 victories out of the 13 games. Carrying the torch for Junior were Jackie Miller, George Stransky, "Hosa" Hopp, Vernie Van Wie, Paul Whelan, "Kenny" Crabtree, Bill Harse, and Gus Douvas, who helped Stiner, Norris, Peters, Jerry Taylor, Whelan, Komarek, and Dier carry the good old H.H.S. football eleven to five victories out of nine games.

They were exciting seasons and dreaming of them almost woke Junior up, but drifting quickly from one activity to another he suddenly saw the "Night of One Acts," that evening packed with levity, drama, and activity, presented by Kosmet Klub and monopolized in the cast by the juniors of the membership, namely, Virginia Motley, Etta

TO THE JUNIORS

'Ridin' Range' together has been fun, but we've come to the fork in the trail.

For you, range-ridin' hombres, we hope you pull up in the corral ready for brandin' this time next year. Don't let the Big Round-up throw you . . . stay right in there and don't pull leather. And you'll be headin' for the Big Rodeo in the spring.

This year there were two hundred and seventy-one in the class . . . Class officers were Marjorie Johnston, p r e s i d e n t; Charlene Stratton, vice president; and Paul Whelan, secretary-treasurer . . . Three cheer leaders, chosen by the student body, were elected from this class . . . some had leading roles in the Kosmet Klub annual "Night of One Act Plays" . . . Fuller, Bierman, Bachman and Yost participated in the Kearney scholastic contest . . . Members of the Hi-Y chose Bob Newman secretary.

Other clubs and activities in which juniors took an active part were Girl Reserves, basketball, G.A.A., football, track, F.F.A., band, orchestra and glee clubs.

Hoff, Joan Aabel, Billie McManigal, Gladys Lyngge, "Kenny" Einsel, and Marko Haggard.

Journeying in his dreams past room 110, Junior was rudely welcomed by a "bronx" cheer emitting from the horn of one of the 26 Junior members of the orchestra. Along with these 26 were 30 wide-a-wake band members who helped blow the rafters loose in Junior High. Organized in a little "jam session" of their own, Rog White, Don Regier, Dick Finnerty, and Ray Scholtz swung on down for convocation and the Hi-Y revue, much to the delight of the studes of H.H.S.

Then came a different picture—one of argument and dramatics, for the starting line-up in declam showed Gladys Lyngge, Don Hughes, Elaine Berger, and Etta Hoff in there pitching. While the talkative members of the debate team included several members of Junior's class, among whom were Dick Hunter, Ray Scholtz, Paul Whelan, Marko Haggard, and Rog White. Suddenly Junior awakened. There he was chasing him again! Can't he ever let him alone? What has he done to deserve such treatment? Reason or no reason the senior class ran Junior ragged all during the later part of '39 and early '40. One thing Junior has over Senior is that he has another year in which to add to his glories.

Carrying on from where we, the Senior Class, have left off, we leave H.H.S. in the capable hands of the Junior Class, under the leadership of Marjorie Johnston, Charlene Stratton, and Paul Whelan.
